- Any threat of violence including direct or indirect, intentional or unintentional, words or actions targeted at another individual.
- Any physical harassment including assault, battery or impeding, blocking or interfering with the normal movement of another individual.

- Any illegal or criminal activity.
- Disorderly or disruptive conduct, or causing a nuisance or unreasonable annoyance.

Section II – Violations of Rules of Conduct

Violations of the Rules of Conduct shall be cause for one or more of the following remedies:

- Verbal and/or written warning from ushering and/or management staff on duty.
- Refused admission to or ejection from the Performing Arts Center by management staff on duty.
- Suspension of privileges to enter and attend activities at the Performing Arts Center.

The War Memorial Board of Trustees has delegated to its Managing Director the authority to enact a suspension of Performing Arts Center privileges whereby an individual will not be permitted in the Performing Arts Center facilities for a specified period of time. Prior to enacting any suspension, the Managing Director shall notify an individual who is threatened with potential suspension notifying them of the reasons therefor, and offering them an opportunity to respond either in person and/or in writing at a hearing before the Managing Director. The Managing Director’s determination at the close of the hearing shall be communicated to the individual.
